

Doddle Parent: Progress

Doddle Parent has been created for the people who care most about their children's education – you!

Doddle Parent lets you see your child's progress in different subjects. Subjects are broken down into individual skills, and your child's teachers will give him or her a rating based on their understanding of each skill:

Green: My child is secure in this skill

Amber: My child is developing in this skill

Red: My child is a novice in this skill

As a parent or carer, you can log in on any internet-enabled device (including mobiles and tablets) to see all of these ratings in one place.

How can I use Doddle Parent to support my child?

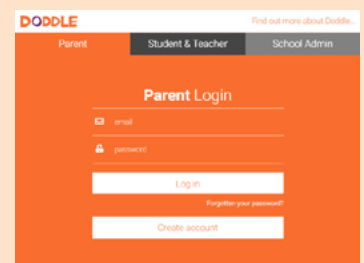

- See exactly how well your son or daughter is grasping skills, according to their teachers.
- View their skills in the order they were rated, to get an idea of their progress.
- Understand the specific areas in which they might need a helping hand – focus on their 'red' skills and help them 'go green'!
- Students can access helpful resources on Doddle by searching under the 'Browse' tab for the different topics they are studying.

How do I log in?
